Facts become knowledge, when it is used in the successful completion of a decision process. In research, massive amounts of facts are integrated as knowledge. Usefulness and utility of research outcomes lie in proper interpretation. Thus, interpretation is a basic component of research. It is a device through which the factors that seem to explain what has been observed by researcher in the course of study can be better understood.

In the present scenario, it has been found that the quality of research output has been far from the much-needed standards. The quality of research depends on the understanding of the research problem and the output. It is significantly based on the appropriate research tool and its interpretation.
