The document is a page from a journal article in the International Journal of Creative Research Thoughts (IJCRT). The content is in English and appears to be a research paper. The text is not fully legible due to the quality of the image, but it seems to discuss a topic related to creative research thoughts, possibly involving methodologies or theoretical frameworks. The paper is structured with sections and subsections, typical of academic research articles, including an abstract, introduction, methods, results, and conclusion.

The document contains references to other works, indicating a comprehensive review of existing literature. The content is technical and academic, likely intended for readers with a background in the field of creative research thoughts.

Unfortunately, the low resolution of the image makes it difficult to transcribe the text accurately. If you have a higher quality version of the document, please provide it for better readability and transcription.
